

As of now, our U.S. events are taking place as scheduled.

Ensuring the safety of all customers and attendees to our events is our top priority. We are following the suggestions of the U.S. and state public health guidelines as they are developing with regards to the COVID-19 virus. We support the stance taken by SISO and remain committed to delivering our events in a safe environment.

As the COVID-19 situation is evolving, we strongly advise that all exhibitors and visitors review the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) travel health notices related to this outbreak. These notices will be updated as more information becomes available and if there are any changes with entry to the U.S. they can be found here <https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-nCoV/>.

Exhibitors and Visitors who are not impacted by the travel restrictions are able to attend the event. Please note, the travel advisories do vary by country so please be sure to review the latest travel advisories and U.S. entry policies for your region. The U.S. and several countries currently has imposed travel restrictions from mainland China which will be enforced.

As a precaution, we are implementing a range of additional hygiene measures at the event.

- Increased cleaning and disinfection program across all high-volume touchpoints
- Onsite medical support
- Availability of sanitizing and disinfection materials for public use
- Awareness and training to all staff on standard personal preventative measures
- Advice to exhibitors on implementing effective cleaning and disinfection of booths, offices along with guidance on personal hygiene measures and common preventive behavior
- Installing signage at the event reminding attendees of hygiene recommendations

Our team will continue to monitor the situation and we will follow-up with customers as needed if the advisories change. If you have questions regarding your participation please contact our customer service team.
